PRIVACY POLICY

Last update date: 07/17/2024

The purpose of this privacy policy (the "Policy") is to formalize our commitment to respecting the privacy of users of the www.marmorningstar.com (Mar Morningstar | Astrology) website (the "Site") operated by Marvin CUPIF EI**.

The Charter and the General Conditions of the Site form a contractual whole. All capitalized terms not defined in the present Charter are defined in the General Conditions, which can be consulted here: https://www.marmorningstar.com/cgv

As part of the provision of our Site, we process your personal data in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 of April 27, 2016 ("GDPR") and under the conditions set out below.

Personal data means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person. We collect and process personal data in the context of providing our Services or communicating about these Services exclusively, in strict compliance with the GDPR.

We only collect personal data that is adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes for which it is processed. For example, you will never be asked to provide personal data considered "sensitive", such as your racial or ethnic origins, or your political, philosophical or religious opinions.

By using the Site, you authorize us to process your personal data in accordance with the Charter. If you do not accept the terms of this Charter, please refrain from using the Site and the Services.

1. When do we collect your personal data and what data is collected?

We may collect and store your personal data, in particular when you :

- browse the Site
- place an order for a consultation
- contact us.

We use your personal data to implement and manage the Site Services and to respond to your specific requests. We also use your personal data to operate and improve our Services, our Site and our approach. This information is used solely by us and enables us to better tailor our Services to your needs.

1.1 Browsing the Site

Navigation data. We collect information enabling us to identify how you access the Site, which pages you consult and for how long. In this context, we may use cookies as specified in section 5.2 below (these cookies are optional and may be refused).

1.2 Payment

Some of the available Services are subject to a fee. To this end, you agree that we may use external service providers who may collect personal data in order to enable the proper functioning of the services for processing payments by credit card or any other means of payment and, where applicable, the delivery of products or services.

To pay for your purchase, you must provide your billing and payment details, including your credit card number, validity date, security code and cardholder's name in the case of payment by credit card.

We keep details of your payments, as well as details of the purchases you make. Transaction details are stored either on our systems or by the external service provider. This storage is carried out for internal purposes, including accounting, compliance and legal purposes, in accordance with paragraph 5 of this Charter.

1.3 Contacts

We may use your first and last name, e-mail address and telephone number to respond to any requests you may make to our customer service department and to confirm information about you.

2. How do we protect your personal data?

We have implemented technical and organizational security measures to guarantee the security, integrity and confidentiality of all your personal data, in order to prevent it from being distorted, damaged or accessed by unauthorized third parties. We ensure an appropriate level of security, taking into account the state of the art, the costs of implementation and the nature, scope, context and purposes of the processing, as well as the risks and their likelihood.

However, please note that no security measure is infallible, and we are therefore unable to guarantee absolute security for your personal data.

3. When do we share your personal data?

3.1 Sharing your personal data with third-party companies

During your browsing on the Site, your personal data may be transmitted to external service providers. These third parties provide a service for us and on our behalf to ensure the smooth operation of credit card payments and other services.

Personal data may be transferred to countries outside the European Union (such as the United States) for storage on our hosting provider's servers.

In accordance with the RGPD, all transfers of personal data to a country outside the European Union and/or not offering a level of protection considered sufficient by the European Commission have been the subject of cross-border flow agreements complying with the standard contractual clauses issued by the European Commission.

Other transfers of personal data to the United States are governed by the E.U. - U.S. PRIVACY SHIELD: click here for more information.

Unless a third party asks you to accept its own confidentiality charter and conditions of use, the third-party companies that receive your personal data have undertaken to process your personal data solely for the purpose of providing our services.

We will never, without your prior consent, share your personal data with third-party companies for marketing and/or commercial purposes.

3.2 Sharing with the authorities

We may disclose your personal data to administrative or judicial authorities where disclosure is necessary for the identification, apprehension or prosecution of any individual likely to infringe our rights, of any other user or of a third party. Finally, we may be legally obliged to disclose your personal data, in which case we may not object.

4. How long do we keep your personal data?

For data requested during a consultation, your customer and birth data are kept for one year in case a new annual consultation is requested.

When you send us a contact form, the data is kept for the time necessary to process your request. This period varies from three days to a maximum of two months.

In any event, we will keep your personal data for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which it is processed, in accordance with the uses set out in this Charter and in compliance with laws and regulations.

5. Cookies: how do we use them?

5.1 What is a cookie?

A cookie is a text file that may be deposited on a terminal when a browser is used to consult an online service. During its period of validity, a cookie file enables its issuer to recognize the terminal concerned each time this terminal accesses digital content containing cookies from the same issuer.

5.2 What are the cookies used for on our Site?

The cookies we issue allow us to :

Our optional cookies :

- to compile statistics and volumes concerning visits to and use of the various elements making up our Site (sections and content visited, routes taken), enabling us to improve the interest and ergonomics of the Site and, where applicable, our Services. Please consult their duration on the Squarespace website: https://shorturl.at/NlXQD

Our strictly necessary cookies :

- Some of the cookies we use are necessary, as they enable visitors to navigate and use the main features of our site. Please consult their duration on the Squarespace website: https://shorturl.at/8iP7U

On your first visit to the Site, a cookies banner will appear. A clickable link allows you to find out more about the purpose and operation of cookies, and refers you to the present Charter. By accepting optional cookies, you consent to their use for the duration indicated, which is available on the Squarespace website.

You might find a "Cookie Preferences" tab on our website at all times. This allows you to control the cookies you accept. As this is a banner provided by our website host, we were not able to deactivate the "Advertising" cookie section, but just know we do not use these.

5.3 How can you control the cookies used?

You can configure your browser to accept or reject cookies at any time (either systematically, or depending on the sender). You can also configure your browser so that you are prompted to accept or reject cookies before a cookie is stored on your terminal.

Please note: any settings you make may affect your Internet browsing experience and your access to certain services requiring the use of cookies. We decline all responsibility for any consequences linked to the degraded operation of our services resulting from the impossibility of recording or consulting the cookies necessary for their operation and which you may have refused or deleted. This would be the case if you attempted to access our content or services that require you to be identified. This would also be the case if we (or our service providers) were unable to recognize, for technical compatibility purposes, the type of browser used by your terminal, its language and display settings, or the country from which your terminal appears to be connected to the Internet.

5.4 How do I configure my browser?

To manage cookies and your choices, the configuration of each browser is different. This is described in your browser's help menu, which will tell you how to modify your cookie preferences. Below you'll find information on the main browsers.

Internet Explorer / Edge

In Internet Explorer, click on the Tools button, then on Internet Options. On the General tab, under Browsing History, click on Settings. Click on the Show files button.

Firefox

- Go to the browser's Tools tab, then select the Options menu
- In the window that appears, select Privacy and click on Show cookies

Safari

- Access Settings via the browser menu (Safari > Preferences)
- Click on Privacy.

Google Chrome

- Access Settings via the button on the right of the URL bar, or via the browser menu (Chrome > Preferences).
- Select Advanced settings
- Click on Content settings, then on Cookies.

For more information on cookies, please visit the CNIL website.

6. What are your rights?

You are the only person to have communicated the data in our possession, via the Site. You have rights to your personal data. In accordance with regulations on the protection of personal data, in particular Articles 15 to 22 of the RGPD, and after proving your identity, you have the right to ask us for access to, rectification or deletion of your personal data.

In addition, within the limits set by law, you also have the right to object to processing, to limit it, to decide on the post-mortem fate of your data, to withdraw your consent at any time and the right to portability of the personal data provided.

You can contact us to exercise your rights at the following e-mail address: marmorningstarr@gmail.com or at the following postal address: 229 rue Saint-Honoré, 75001, Paris, France*,* enclosing a copy of your identity card with your request.

7. Can we modify the Charter?

We reserve the right to modify the Charter at any time. You are therefore advised to consult it regularly. In the event of modifications, we will publish these changes on this page and in such other places as we deem appropriate, depending on the purpose and importance of the changes.

Your use of the Site after any modification means that you accept these modifications. If you do not accept certain substantial modifications made to the present Charter, you must stop using the Site.

8. Contact

If you have any questions about your personal data, please contact us at the following postal address: 229 rue Saint-Honoré, 75001, Paris, France (indicating "Vie Privée - Protection des Données"), or by email at marmorningstarr@gmail.com.

9. The French Data Protection Authority ("CNIL")

We remind you that you can contact the CNIL directly on the CNIL website or by post at the following address: Commission Nationale de l'Informatique et des Libertés (CNIL), 3 Place de Fontenoy - TSA 80715, 75334 PARIS CEDEX 07.